

FIRST SHEAF

by Avram Yehoshua

THE SEED OF ABRAHAM

TABLE OF CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION .....	1
THE PROCEDURE .....	2
THE CHURCH IGNORANT .....	3
God’s Definition of Sin .....	4
Easter—The Day of His Resurrection? .....	6
YESHUA AS THE FIRST SHEAF .....	7
Other Uses of First Sheaf in Scripture .....	9
THE TECHNICAL PROBLEM .....	11
TALMUD—CAN WE TRUST IT? .....	16
CONCLUSION .....	17
BOOKS .....	19
ARTICLES .....	19

INTRODUCTION

A special ceremony in the spring of every year is seen in Leviticus 23:10-14. It acknowledges Yahveh for what He had given to Israel—the Promised Land; a land flowing with milk and honey (i.e. a land of abundance; Ex. 13:5, etc.), and what He would give to Israel—the coming year’s harvest (food to sustain life):

Lev. 23:10: “Speak to the Sons of Israel and say to them, ‘When you enter the Land which I am going to give to you and reap its harvest, then you shall bring in the sheaf of the first sheaf (aka first fruits; barley grain) of your harvest to the (High) Priest.’”

Lev. 23:11: ‘He shall wave (הָנִיף elevate)<sup>1</sup> the sheaf (עֹמֶר omer)<sup>2</sup> before Yahveh for you to be accepted. On the day after the Sabbath the Priest shall wave (elevate) it.’

Lev. 23:12: ‘Now on the day when you wave (elevate) the sheaf (omer of barley grain), you must offer a male lamb one year old without defect for a burnt offering to Yahveh.’

Lev. 23:13: ‘Its grain offering shall then be two-tenths of an ephah<sup>3</sup> of fine flour mixed with oil, an offering by fire to Yahveh for a soothing aroma, with its drink offering; a fourth of a hin of wine.’<sup>4</sup>

Lev. 23:14: ‘Until this same day, until you have brought in the offering of your God, you shall eat neither (new) bread, nor roasted grain, nor new growth. It is to be a perpetual statute throughout your generations in all your dwelling places.’

The year old male lamb offered to Yahveh in v. 12 pictured Yeshua dying in the prime of His life (at age 33), offering Himself up to His Father for us. The burnt offering (v. 12) is a picture of total surrender and dedication to Yahveh, which of course, Yeshua exemplifies. Both the flour and oil of v. 13, and the wine, were once part of things that needed to be crushed in order to be transformed for Israel to eat. The fine flour was crushed from whole kernels, the oil for olives, and the wine from grapes. These all picture Yeshua being crushed or crucified that we might be able to eat of Him as the Matza (Unleavened Bread) and Blood of Life, filled with the Oil of the Holy Spirit. Just as the Hebrews couldn’t eat of the new grain until this ceremony was done (v. 14) so too we could not eat of the Bread of Life until He had been crushed and raised from the ground (grave) and presented Himself to His Father as the First Fruits (First Sheaf) to rise from the dead (1st Cor. 15:20, 23). Then we became acceptable to God the Father (Lev. 23:11) and could eat of the Bread of Life. As we surrender and dedicate ourselves to Yeshua, He crushes us that His glory within us (the Holy Spirit) might flow out and touch others.

---

<sup>1</sup> The Hebrew word הָנִיף (nuf) generally is translated as ‘wave,’ as in ‘wave offering’ for Lev. 23:11-12. Milgrom presents “significant evidence to translate it as ‘elevate,’” which makes more sense since both the sheaf and Yeshua rose from the ground; they didn’t wave. Jacob Milgrom, The Anchor Bible: Leviticus 1-16 (New York, Doubleday, 2001), pp. 461-473 (see Herb Solinsky, Treatise on the Biblical Calendar April 3, 2009, p. 259).

Also, Ludwig Koehler, Walter Baumgartner, and J. J. Stamm, authors; M. Richardson, translator, The Hebrew-Aramaic Lexicon of the Old Testament (Accordance Bible Software; Altamonte Springs, FL: OakTree Software, 2011), 2001, 2.682, has ‘elevate’ as one of its secondary meanings for הָנִיף (‘to bring in something while holding it up’), and R. L. Harris, editor; Gleason Archer, Jr. and Bruce Waltke, associate editors, Theological Wordbook of the Old Testament, vol. II (Chicago: Moody Press, 1980), p. 565, has elevate (i.e. ‘lift’) as part of a secondary meaning: ‘lift, wave, shake, wield.’

<sup>2</sup> C. F. Keil and F. Delitzsch, Commentary On The Old Testament, vol. 1: The Pentateuch (Peabody, MA: Hendrickson Publishers, 2001), p. 368. About five pints (about two pounds or a kilo).

<sup>3</sup> W. H. Bellinger, Jr., New International Biblical Commentary: Leviticus, Numbers (Peabody, MA: Hendrickson Publishers, Inc., 2001), p. 122. An ephah was a dry measure of weight of about 20 quarts (20 liters). Two-tenths of an ephah would be about four quarts or four liters.

<sup>4</sup> Ibid. A hin of wine weighs about six pints (three quarts or three liters).

THE PROCEDURE

On the Sunday of Passover Week known as First Sheaf (and First Fruits), the High Priest would be presented with an omer of finely crushed barley (about two pounds or a kilo). He would,

1. scoop up a handful of the grain mixed with olive oil,
2. place some incense on it (symbolic of the prayers of the High Priest for Israel) and elevate it, lifting it up before Yahveh, which symbolized dedication of not only the spring harvest, but also the summer and autumn harvests as well, for this was the first fruits/grain to come forth from the Earth.
3. Then he would bless Yahveh and acknowledge that,
  1. Yahveh had saved Israel from Egyptian slavery and,
  2. He had brought the Hebrews into the land of Canaan, as He had promised the Fathers and,
  3. He had made them as many as the stars of the heavens, another promise and,
  4. He had provided food for them, this grain being symbolic of all the grain/food since Israel came into the Land, and also of the future grain/food in the coming year. Yahveh was a faithful God.
4. Then the High Priest would cast the handful of grain, incense and olive oil upon the fire of the bronze Altar of Sacrifice, thus dedicating it and all to follow that year to Yahveh, and so Israel would be acceptable to God, for they had followed His commandment concerning First Fruits in acknowledging God as their source of life in their own land, freedom and food.

The elevating of the offering up to God of the first sheaf, in Hebrew, is omer raysheet עֹמֶר רֵאשִׁית. It literally means the first omer. It's from this term, omer, and the offering of it up to Yahveh on the Sunday of Passover Week, that set in motion what is called, 'the counting of the omer.' From the day the fine barley flour was offered up to God, Israel counted 50 days (inclusive) to the next feast, Shavu'ot (Pentecost; the Feast of Weeks). The Hebrew for Leviticus 23:15, the verse after the omer is elevated, reads:

'Then you are to count from the day after the Sabbath, the day you brought the omer (sheaf) elevation offering, seven Sabbaths.'

This is where we get the phrase, 'the counting of/from the omer.' The relationship of the omer to Shavu'ot is that on the day the first sheaf (omer) is elevated before Yahveh, the High Priest would count 50 days inclusive, and that 50th day, another Sunday, would be Shavu'ot, the annual summer holy Sabbath thanking God for the summer crops. The High Priest, in his blessing Yahveh, thanked God for His faithfulness in keeping His Word to Fathers Abraham, Isaac and Jacob concerning their Sons and the giving of the Land of Israel to them, and that Yahveh would be their God forever. The promises are seen in Genesis:

Gen. 15:5, 7: "And He took Abram outside and said, 'Now look toward the Heavens and count the stars, if you are able to count them.' And He said to him, 'So shall your descendants be...and He said to him, 'I am Yahveh who brought you up out of Ur of the Chaldeans, to give you this Land to possess it.'"

Gen. 17:2, 4: 'I will establish My Covenant between Me and you and I will multiply you exceedingly...As for Me, behold! My Covenant is with you and you will be the Father of a multitude of nations.'

Gen. 17:7-8: 'I will establish My Covenant between Me and you and your descendants after you throughout their generations for an everlasting Covenant, to be God to you and to your descendants after you. I will give to you and to your descendants after you, the land of your sojournings, all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession and I will be their God.'

After the ceremony of First Fruits, Israel was able to eat the ‘fruit’ of the Land that Yahveh had given them, barley, in the Land flowing with milk and honey.<sup>5</sup> The grain used for First Sheaf would be barley, as it ripens four to six weeks before the summer wheat harvest (which would be offered on Shavu’ot and is usually in early June). First Sheaf is usually in April.

The elevation offering of the first harvest pictured it and the other harvests (summer and fall) that were to follow. It also pictured Yeshua rising from the ground/burial or the dead. All the crops would be dedicated or holy because the first was offered up to God. This made Israel acceptable to Yahveh as it speaks of Yeshua being sacrificed and risen so Israel would be made acceptable:

1. The elevating by the High Priest of the finely crushed barley grain mixed with olive oil, the first sheaf, with a handful thrown onto the Altar fire that had incense in it, pictured Yeshua, filled with the Holy Spirit (the oil), ascending to Papa God after the resurrection (cf. John 20:17).
2. The incense on that handful of flour that was thrown into the fire pictures the prayers of Yeshua as our High Priest for His people Israel, ascending to God the Father in the Flames of the Holy Spirit (the flames of the bronze Altar of Sacrifice).
3. The High Priest at the Temple in Jerusalem, thanking Yahveh for the harvest and His faithfulness to His promises for Israel, pictures Yeshua as our High Priest thanking His Father for giving Israel their promised Messiah, their Savior and their King, the pure grain/Bread of Heaven, which will sustain them for eternity, the first to rise from the dead, glorified and eternal.
4. The High Priest would then eat the grain that was left over; not thrown onto the fire of the Altar. This pictured the body of Yeshua being given to Christians for their divine Food (Jn. 6:53; Heb. 13:10).

God has been faithful to His Word. He has provided everything Israel needs—from literal food to the eternal Bread (Matza) of Life—Messiah Yeshua.

THE CHURCH IGNORANT

When Bishop (Pope) Sixtus of Rome, in 120 AD, severed himself and all those Christians under his influence (primarily in Italy and Greece) from walking out their faith in Christ through all Mosaic Law that applied to them, and brought in pagan days and pagan ways to replace it (e.g. Sunday, Easter and the eating of unclean animals), all the Gentile and Jewish believers of Asia Minor (modern Turkey) and all points east (e.g. Israel and Syria), continued to keep the 7th day Sabbath, Passover and the Mosaic dietary laws, etc. There was much turmoil in Christianity over that for the next few centuries. The Bishop had intentionally rebelled against God’s Word and His Ways. First Sheaf being one such Way. John 20:16 records the encounter between Miryam (Mary) and her risen Savior where Yeshua said to her, ‘Miryam!’ She turned and said to Him in Hebrew, ‘Rabboni!’ (which means, ‘my beloved Rabbi’).

One reason this sentence is in Scripture is because God wants us to realize that Yeshua’s first appearance after His resurrection has Him keeping the ceremony of First Fruits (First Sheaf). His fulfilling of it doesn’t mean it has been done away with, but on the contrary, now when we celebrate it, and celebrate it we must because God says the Feasts of Israel are forever (Ex. 12:24; Lev. 23:14, etc.), we know this ceremony thanks God for providing divine food for His people Israel in both the natural and spiritual realms.

First Sheaf was the Sunday of Passover Week and Yeshua was in process of fulfilling it. That’s why He tells Miryam, in the very next verse, not to cling to Him:

“Don’t cling to Me, for I have not yet ascended to the Father, but go to My brethren and

---

<sup>5</sup> Exodus 3:8, 17; 13:5; 33:3; Lev. 20:24; Num. 13:27; 14:8; 16:13-14; Dt. 6:3; 11:9; 26:9, 15; 27:3; 31:20, etc.

say to them, ‘I ascend to My Father and your Father, and My God and your God.’” (John 20:17)

Yeshua had not yet ascended to the Father, but obviously, He had already resurrected. He spoke to Miryam that way because He was about to ascend to His Father and thank Him for being faithful to Israel, paralleling the earthly ceremony of First Fruits by the High Priest in Jerusalem, who was offering up the first grain to rise from the Earth, barley grain, so the heavenly High Priest, Yeshua, was appearing before His Father as the First Living Grain to rise from the dead, from the Earth/ground (cf. Jn. 12:24; 1st Cor. 15:20, 23). This was a reason why the earthly ceremony was established—to point to the heavenly Reality of Yeshua. They are both valid for picturing what God has done for Israel. Now that Messiah has come, when we enter into First Fruits we have both understandings of what they mean for us as Christians. Both the heavenly and the earthly will remain until the New Jerusalem is established (Ezk. 40–48; Mt. 5:18; Rev. 21:1ff.).

Many followers of Jesus claim that He rose on Sunday, and because of that, Christianity has Sunday assembly or a ‘Sunday Sabbath,’ as some erroneously call it, but there’s nothing in the New Testament that even remotely states that Sunday has replaced God’s 7th day Sabbath because of the resurrection (or any other reason). One of the definitions of ‘Sabbath’ is ‘end,’ as in ‘the end of the biblical week,’ and that’s why it’s the 7th day. Sunday begins the biblical first day of the week and so it can never be the weekly Sabbath.<sup>6</sup>

Yeshua is first seen on this Sunday of First Fruits, which is why God set it up this way, for Yeshua ascends as the First Sheaf (Fruits) of all the Harvest of God’s resurrected people to come. This does not sanctify all Sundays during the year, as interestingly enough, First Fruits is not an annual Sabbath (like the first and seventh days of the Feast of Unleavened Bread; cf. Lev. 23:6-8).<sup>7</sup> In other words, even with Yeshua rising on Sunday there is nothing in the New Testament that says because of His resurrection Sunday is now the new weekly day of assembly, or that Sunday is the ‘new Sabbath,’ or even that Sunday is holy and blessed, as we would expect so that it could have at least the same honor that God gave to the 7th day Sabbath when He made it holy and blessed in Creation Week (Gen. 2:1-3).

God’s Definition of Sin

If Sunday had replaced the seventh day Sabbath we would expect to find numerous passages in the New Testament testifying to this. After all, Israel had been keeping the Sabbath for 1,470 years by the time of the resurrection. Theologians cite two New Testament texts in support of Sunday.<sup>8</sup> These two proof texts are used to justify the replacement of the Sabbath by unthinking Christians, but this only reveals how misguided Christian theologians are in trying to justify Sunday replacing God’s 7th day Sabbath. Christians were born into this Roman Catholic tradition and ‘think it’s the Gospel,’ but it’s only a Catholic tradition, which Protestants unwittingly picked up that nullifies God’s Word. Yeshua’s words to the Pharisees speak of Christians today who keep the traditions of Rome (e.g. Sunday, Easter and Xmas, and the eating of ham and shrimp, etc.), thinking them ‘Gospel.’ Yeshua said to the Pharisees, ‘All too well you reject the Commandment of God that you may keep your tradition!’” (Mark 7:9)

---

<sup>6</sup> See The Lord’s Day–Sunday?

<sup>7</sup> The first annual Sabbath, on Passover night, commemorates the crucifixion of Yeshua, and hence, why its an annual Sabbath. The second annual Sabbath or 7th day of Passover Week is a Sabbath because it pictures the completion of what Yeshua’s sacrifice entailed—the holy and sinless glorification of His Body (i.e. Christians).

<sup>8</sup> The texts after the resurrection that speak of the first day of the week (i.e. Sunday) are Acts 20:7 and First Corinthians 16:2. See The Feasts of Israel as Time Markers After the Resurrection, pp. 20-25; 10-20 and also The Lord’s Day–Sunday?

It's because of Rome that Christians reject Mosaic Law as God's lifestyle for them, thinking that Jesus "did away with the Law at the Cross, having fulfilled it." They fail to understand what the New Testament says about Paul's Second Stream of Mosaic Law. The first Stream rightly negates anything added to Yeshua's Finished Work of Redemption as the sacrificial Lamb of God. In other words, no amount of good deeds or good intentions, or any keeping of the Law, added to one's faith in Jesus, can save him, for as Paul states, anyone who adds anything to their faith in Yeshua has "fallen from Grace" (cf. Gal. 5:4).

The Second Stream, which Christians are blind to, is that once saved, does it matter if one sins? Paul answers that with a resounding "Yes!" in Romans 6:1-3f. Most Christians would agree with that, but when asked what Paul's specific definition of sin is, they are at a loss to explain it. Do you know? If not, you might want to ask your pastor or other Christian friends, as a sort of quiz to see if they know because if we don't know the New Testament's specific definition of sin (after the Resurrection, as the Church teaches that Mosaic Law was nullified at the Cross for Christians), we can certainly be sinning in ignorance against the One we love, and most Christians are. Paul states in Romans 3:20:

"Therefore by the deeds of the law no flesh will be justified in His sight, FOR BY THE LAW IS THE KNOWLEDGE OF SIN." (Romans 3:20 NKJV)

The first phrase reflects Paul's First Stream: No amount of good works, which Paul calls the "deeds of the law," can justify a man, but once justified, the Law comes to the forefront as God's Christian lifestyle because Paul says "for by the law is the KNOWLEDGE of sin."

In other words, without the Law and it saying to keep the Sabbath day holy and to celebrate Passover, and not to eat unclean animals such as the pig, one is left without that divine knowledge of what is sin in God's eyes. Interestingly enough, the word for knowledge in Greek is gnosis, but Paul places a prefix on it (epi) to make it epignosis, which means "FULL knowledge." According to the Apostle Paul, the Apostle to the Gentiles (Rom. 11:13), without Mosaic Law's rules, ordinances and commandments, etc., Christians are walking in less than the full knowledge or understanding of what God considers sin and consequently, what God considers a holy Christian lifestyle. Remember, Jesus was judged sinless according to Mosaic Law. That was God's Standard for His Son, and it's our Standard also, despite the Church teaching against Mosaic Law. Paul said in Greek, "for by the Law is the full knowledge of sin."

Christians have a basic knowledge of sin, knowing not to steal or murder, and to love God and neighbor with all their heart, but without Mosaic Law they transgress the weekly Sabbath day and the Feasts of Israel, and they eat foods that were sin for Jesus, and according to Paul, are also sin for us. Paul confirms this Second Stream on Mosaic Law in the same Letter to the Romans by saying that the Law is holy and spiritual:

"Therefore the law is holy, and the commandment holy and just and good...For we know that the Law is spiritual, but I am carnal, sold under sin." (Romans 7:12, 14).

Why would Paul say that? Why wouldn't he write that we don't have to keep the Law? If what the Church teaches is true, Paul should not have written Romans 7:12, 14. Nor 1st Cor. 4:16-17; 5:6-8; 11:1.<sup>9</sup>

Yeshua's first appearance and ascension on the Sunday of Passover Week doesn't give biblical warrant for Sunday observance over Sabbath, as that Sunday of First Fruits was placed within the Feast of Unleavened Bread for the express purpose of both offering the first grain of spring to God in thanksgiving, and having a day when Yeshua would complement the earthly reality as the first to rise from the Earth as the New Creation. First Fruits is the day of His Resurrection—not Easter.

---

<sup>9</sup> See A Snapshot of Church History and Mosaic Law, The Feasts of Israel and the Church, The Two Triangles of the NT, Law 102 and The Lifting of the Veil—Acts 15:20-21.

Easter—The Day of His Resurrection?

The issue of Easter vs Passover began in the second century when Pope Sixtus, in 120 AD, threw out Mosaic Law, the Sabbath and Passover, and replaced them with Sunday, Easter and the eating of unclean animals, and a contempt for “the Jewish Law,” which carries over to this day into Christian churches. What has Easter and chocolate Easter bunnies have to do with the resurrection of the Lamb of God? Please realize that Easter is just the English name for Ishtar, the Queen of Heaven, the goddess of the ancient Assyrians. Ishtar (Easter) was the one who raised her dead son Tammuz, who was also known as the Christ, the Savior of the world, on Ishtar (Easter) Sunday. Satan is the Master Counterfeiter. You won’t find Easter in the New Testament.<sup>10</sup>

Easter came from the Roman Catholic Church, but nowhere in Scripture does God authorize Man to change His holy Days. By the way, half the time Easter does not coincide with when Jesus rose from the grave because they are calculated two different ways. The Apostolic Church always kept Passover, but after all the Apostles were dead, Sixtus tore the fabric out of Christian lifestyle and brought in Sunday and Easter, etc. There was much spiritual upheaval in the Christian world at that time, and it would continue for hundreds of years, but Church History records that all Christians kept Sabbath and Passover until Sixtus changed it in 120 AD.<sup>11</sup>

Some Christians say that Christ is their Passover Lamb and so they don’t have to literally keep Passover. Would they also say they don’t have to eat and drink because Christ is their Bread of Life (John 6:35, 48) and Living Water (Jn. 7:38)? Of course not. The problem with their position is glaringly apparent. Jesus never said Christians wouldn’t have to eat or drink, even though He is the Bread of Life and the Living Water. He is the divine reality in back of our current food that sustains us and gives us physical life. It’s because Yeshua is our Passover Lamb that Passover’s Old Testament meaning of freedom from Egyptian slavery is exponentially amplified “in Christ,” the (Passover) Lamb of God (cf. Jn. 1:29, 36). That’s the reason we continue to celebrate it now, with the fuller understanding that Jesus has set us free from sin, guilt, sickness, death and Satan. By celebrating Passover Christians are not only obeying God the Father’s commandment to Israel (of which all Gentile Christians are a part of; cf. Jn. 10:16; Rom. 11:11f.; Eph. 2:11f.), and not sinning, but also entering into His Way of honoring Him and His Son for giving us our freedom from sin, etc. After all, what do chocolate Easter Bunny eggs have to do with the Lamb of God, and what do sunrise services have to do with Christ’s Resurrection, for He rose while it was still dark (cf. John 21:1). Pagans worship the sun as it comes up. Are Easter sunrise services just a coincidence?

Others say they don’t have to keep Passover because they’re not Jewish, but belief in the Jewish Messiah Jesus (see Rev. 22:16 for Jesus still being Jewish; also Luke 1:30-35; John 4:22), makes a Gentile Christian part of Israel, as Yeshua Himself implies in Jn. 10:16; and as Paul literally speaks of in Rom. 11:11f., and Eph. 2:11f. Gentile Christians (and Jewish Christians), are required by God to obey His rules for Christian lifestyle, which means keeping all the rules of Moses that apply to any one Christian (as many Mosaic rules only apply to certain people, like the High Priest, women or farmers, etc.). If one is to actually follow and imitate Jesus Christ as John says, “He who says he abides in Him ought himself also to walk just as He walked” (1st John 2:6 NKJV), shouldn’t he actually follow, imitate and emulate Jesus Christ in the Days and Ways that He kept? Paul said to his Corinthian Christians, “Therefore I urge you, imitate me. For this reason I have sent Timothy to you, who is my beloved and faithful son in the Lord, who will remind you of my ways in Christ, as I teach everywhere in every church...Imitate me, just as I also imitate Christ.” (1st Cor. 4:16-17; 11:1 NKJV)

---

<sup>10</sup> Only the King James Version has “Easter” in Acts 12:4. All other English Bibles correctly have “Passover.” The Greek Textus Receptus, which is the basis for the KJV, has Paska, which in English is Passover, not Easter. The inerrant KJV got it wrong.

<sup>11</sup> See The Lord’s Day—Sunday? p. 19f.

Returning to First Fruits, as the offering of the first fruits (barley grain) to the Father meant that the harvests to come (summer and fall) would also be acceptable to God, so Yeshua’s appearance before the Father as the First Fruits to rise from the dead meant that all who follow Him are acceptable to the Father. Yeshua ascended to the Father on First Fruits and was raised from the dead on that Sunday, the first day of the week, paralleling the first day of Creation Week. In other words, as God began His creation on the first day of Creation Week, He also began His New Creation on the first day of the week, with Yeshua being raised from the dead, the first of the New Creation (the glorified God-Man), so that Yeshua would have preeminence in all things:

“And He is the Head of the Body, the Church, who is the Beginning, the Firstborn from the dead, that in all things He may have the preeminence.” (Colossians 1:18)

“But now Christ is risen from the dead and has become the First Fruits of those who have fallen asleep...But each one in his own order: Christ the First Fruits, afterward those who are Christ’s at His coming.” (1st Corinthians 15:20, 23)

Yeshua is first seen alive on First Fruits, and no one sees Him resurrect on Sunday, but with Paul speaking of Yeshua as the First Fruits, and First Fruits always being on a Sunday, it’s obvious that Yeshua rose on the first day of the week (as Scripture refers to what we know as Sunday). Obviously though, there’s no need for either a weekly Sunday assembly that has replaced the Lord’s holy 7th day Sabbath and no need for (pagan) Easter or ‘Resurrection Day’ (as many call it, wanting to try and distance themselves from the paganism of Easter). Easter Sunday and Resurrection Day are always celebrated on the same Sunday because Resurrection Day’s Sunday is dated according to Easter Sunday. The problem is that the dating for Easter Sunday is not always on the right Sunday of First Sheaf, which is dated according to Scripture, not pagan Easter.<sup>12</sup> Yeshua wants His people to keep His Days and Ways, not the Days and Ways of the Pope.

YESHUA AS THE FIRST SHEAF

For Yeshua to be was no great miracle. He was God the Son and He brought Lazarus and others back to life. The incredible miracle is that He prefigures our glorified resurrection. We shall all be like Him, the glorified God-Man, to the eternal praise of God our Father.<sup>13</sup> How else could we marry Him and be His Bride except that we be like Him, as Eve was like Adam? 1st Cor. 15:22-23 reads,

‘For as in Adam all die, so also in Messiah all will be made alive, but each in his own order—Messiah the First Fruits (Sheaf/Omer), after that those who are Messiah’s at His coming.’ (1st Cor. 15:22-23)

“For our citizenship is in Heaven, from which we also eagerly wait for the Savior, the

---

<sup>12</sup> Passover is calculated from the first new moon on or after the Vernal (Spring) Equinox. From that new moon, which is the first night/day of the biblical month and also the night/first day of the biblical New Year (Ex. 12:2), one counts 14 days to when the Passover lamb is to be sacrificed at sunset (14 Aviv), and then a few hours later, on the next biblical night, the Passover meal is eaten (15 Aviv), which also begins the seven day Feast of Unleavened Bread. Generally, the Sunday within Passover Week is First Sheaf/Fruits, but in 2019 First Sheaf fell on the Sunday immediately after the last day of the seven day Feast of Unleavened Bread.

On the other hand, Easter or ‘Resurrection Day’ are calculated from the first full moon after the Vernal Equinox. The following Sunday becomes Easter Sunday. In practical terms Easter and the Sunday for First Sheaf sometimes coincide, but they can be off by as much as a week or two, or even a full month.

<sup>13</sup> See Salvation—The Promise!

Lord Yeshua the Messiah, who will transform our lowly body that it may be conformed to His glorious body...” (Philippians 3:20-21).

Passover, the Feast of Unleavened Bread and First Fruits picture the crucifixion, death, burial, resurrection and the first ascension of Yeshua. The Feasts of Israel are truly divine. As the Lamb of God Yeshua dies on Passover, the first day of Matza (Unleavened Bread; 15 Aviv), the day when the firstborn of Egypt died in order for Israel, God’s Firstborn Son (Ex. 4:22), to be released from Egyptian slavery (Exodus 12:12f.; Num. 33:3). At Yeshua’s crucifixion the sky reverted into a nighttime scene of darkness, even though it was noon and the sun had been out, most likely because God wasn’t pleased with His Son’s treatment, and it also reflected Egypt’s firstborn sons dying in the darkness at midnight (Ex. 12:29-30) on 15 Aviv. Scripture records that,

‘It was now about the sixth hour (noon) and darkness fell over the whole land until the ninth hour.’ (Yeshua dies at 3:00 PM; Luke 23:44; cf. Mt. 27:45-56; Mk. 15:33-34)

The Grain of Heaven fell into the Earth (burial) on the first day of Matza. This is (still) 15 Aviv, the night before Yeshua having eaten the Passover Meal at the correct biblical time.<sup>14</sup> This is the day, 15 Aviv, the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, when the sacrifice of the lamb on 14 Aviv took effect and actually set Israel free from Egyptian slavery. Israel left in the early hours of the morning of 15 Aviv, and this is when Yeshua was crucified, and when we left Satan’s Kingdom. Moses records in Numbers 33:1-3:

‘These are the journeys of the Sons of Israel by which they came out from the land of Egypt by their armies under the leadership of Moses and Aaron. Moses recorded their starting places according to their journeys by the command of Yahveh and these are their journeys according to their starting places. They journeyed from Rameses in the first month, on the 15th day of the first month<sup>15</sup> (on the daylight after the Passover meal at dark)<sup>16</sup> the Sons of Israel started out boldly in the sight of all the Egyptians.’

“So you must observe the Feast of Unleavened Bread, for on this same day I will have brought your armies out of the land of Egypt! Therefore, you shall observe this day throughout your generations as an everlasting ordinance!” (Ex. 12:17)

On the same day that Egypt’s firstborn sons died, God’s only begotten Firstborn Son dies. Yeshua cried out, “It is finished!” (the redemption/salvation of Israel; Jn. 19:31). God had brought Israel out of Egyptian slavery 1,470 years earlier.<sup>17</sup> Both times Israel was redeemed through the sacrifice of the Passover lamb/Lamb. This day, 15 Aviv (Nisan in Judaism’s calendar),<sup>18</sup> is the first day of the Feast of Matza, the first annual Sabbath.

Yeshua is resurrected on the Sunday of Passover Week; First Fruits. As the New Harvest, the First of many, Yeshua then ascends at the exact time that the High Priest was thanking God and elevating the new barley grain before Yahveh: the first sheaf/fruit elevation offering, confirming that all Israel would be ac-

---

<sup>14</sup> See Passover and the Apostle John for why John 13 is also a Passover meal, eaten at the correct biblical time, and not a “memorial meal” eaten a night before so that Jesus could die when the Passover lambs were being sacrificed in the Temple. Some also say that Jesus re-dated the biblical Passover to the night before. Of course, neither has any Scripture for a “memorial meal” a night before the traditional, biblical Passover, nor Jesus setting the Passover forward by a day. One of the chief ways we know this is that if Jesus had done either of those two things, many of the writers of the New Testament would have told us about it so we could emulate Him.

<sup>15</sup> The 15 of the month is the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread.

<sup>16</sup> The next day after the Passover refers to the day the Passover lambs were slain in Egypt (14 Aviv).

<sup>17</sup> Many theologians believe that it was the year 1440 BC when Israel left Egypt. Adding 30 years to that, when Yeshua was crucified, makes a total of 1,470 years.

<sup>18</sup> See Hebrew Months for why the Jewish Calendar has Babylonian names for their months, and what some of the names of the biblical months are.

ceptable to Yahveh. Yeshua told Miryam not to cling to Him because He was going to appear before His Father as the heavenly First Sheaf to rise from the ground/burial/death and thank God His Father. The High Priest would have said something like this on that day of First Sheaf, 30 AD:

‘Thank You, Yahveh, for Your love and compassion toward us. You are faithful and true to Your Word! You promised our Fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, that their Seed would be as many as the stars of the Heavens and that You would give them this Land, and that You would be their God, and You have kept Your promise! Here we are, their Seed, in the Land that your promised to give them, worshipping You and now, here is the first portion (first sheaf/omer/fruit) of the Land that brings forth food for us to eat. Thank You!’

With that, the High Priest took a handful of the finely ground barley mixed with olive oil, placed some incense upon it and tossed it upon the Altar of Sacrifice to ascend in smoke to Yahveh. Jus before that, Miryam had left Yeshua (John 20:17) and He had ascended to His Father as the First Sheaf to rise from the dead. He would have said at the same time:

‘Thank You, Father, for your love and compassion toward Israel. You are faithful and true to Your Word! You promised our Fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, that their Seed would be as many as the stars of the Heavens and that they would be given the Land, and You have kept Your promise of giving Israel their Messiah-Savior. Here I am, their Seed of which there shall be many, and I am their Bread of Life on which they shall eat forever, and also their portion (“of land”) in the New Jerusalem. You are the God of Israel! Thank You, Father!’

This First Ascension is Yeshua fulfilling the picture of the First Sheaf on the first day of the week...He is the new Creature—the God-Man glorified. It parallels the first day of Creation when God spoke and said, ‘Let there be Light!’ (Gen. 1:3) and from within the eternal depths of the Father and the Holy Spirit came the Word, the Son, the Light of the world, slain from before the Foundation of Creation (Rev. 13:8).<sup>19</sup>

Other Uses of First Sheaf in Scripture

There are a number of times in the New Covenant that the term ‘first sheaf’ (or ‘first fruits,’ which has the same meaning) are used. The Apostle Paul uses the term to apply to Yeshua as the first to be raised from the dead, and that in fact, Yeshua had been raised from the dead on the Sunday of First Fruits (1st Cor. 15:20, 23). Another use of the term is seen when Paul describes the Holy Spirit within us—our pledge from God the Father that He will do for us as He has promised—glorification on the Day of Judgment:

‘And not only this, but also we ourselves having the first fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves waiting eagerly for our adoption as sons, the redemption of our body.’ (Rom. 8:23; cf. Phil. 3:20-21)

Paul uses first fruits as a general concept of something that comes first, and not a direct reference to the ceremony of First Fruits. James<sup>20</sup> gives a slightly different meaning for the phrase, but still within the biblical sense, says,

‘In the exercise of His will He brought us forth by the Word of Truth, so that we would be

---

<sup>19</sup> See Yeshua—God the Son for how Yeshua is both deity, humanity, and God the Son.

<sup>20</sup> The Hebrew name of James should have been translated into English as Jacob, but because of anti-Semitism in the ancient Roman Catholic Church, a foreign, a non-Jewish sounding name was used (from the Latin; i.e. James). It’s interesting that John 4:6 speaks of Jacob’s well, and not James’ well, affirming that the half brother of Yeshua should be called Jacob in English Bibles.

a kind of first fruits among His creatures.’ (James 1:18)

James (from the Latin; actually his name in English should be Jacob) is the half-brother of Yeshua and the Prince (nasi from the Hebrew, sometimes erroneously translated as ‘president’) of the Assembly of all the Jews in Jerusalem who believed in Yeshua (Acts 12:17; 15:13; 21:18; Gal. 1:19; 2:9). It seems he’s saying the Jewish-Christians who came to Yeshua in his lifetime as the first fruits of the heavenly Harvest (although it could apply to the Gentile Christians in his time too), which we see today would align itself symbolically with the ‘summer’ harvest of Pentecost or Shavu’ot.

In Revelation a certain class of Israelis are sealed by God from 12 Tribes of Israel:

‘And I heard the number of those who were sealed—144,000 sealed from every Tribe of the Sons of Israel.’ (Rev. 7:4)

In Revelation 14:1f., these 144,000 Israelis are seen as first fruits unto Yeshua. These 144,000 obviously refer to the natural Seed of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob:

‘These are the ones who have not been defiled with women, for they have kept themselves chaste. These are the ones who follow the Lamb wherever He goes. These have been purchased (redeemed) from among men as first fruits to God and to the Lamb.’ (Revelation 14:4)

Gentiles who love the Lord are also present. It’s interesting that they have palm branches in their hands, as this is peculiar to the last great harvest feast, Sukote—the Feast of Tabernacles:

‘After these things I looked, and behold! A great multitude, which no one could count, from every nation and all tribes, peoples and tongues standing before the Throne and before the Lamb, clothed in white robes and palm branches were in their hands.’ (Rev. 7:9)

Moses wrote of the Feast of Tabernacles, saying,

‘And you shall take for yourselves on the first day the fruit of beautiful trees, branches of palm trees, the boughs of leafy trees and willows of the brook, and you must rejoice before Yahveh your God for seven days.’ (Leviticus 23:40, 33-44)

You and I today are part of the End Time Harvest of the Feast of Tabernacles. Our ‘time’ or picture is in the autumn of salvation history, and yet, we are also ‘Firstborn Sons of God:’

“For you have not come to a Mountain that can be touched and to a blazing Fire and to Darkness, gloom and whirlwind, and to the blast of a Shofar<sup>21</sup> and the sound of Words, which sound was such that those who heard begged that no further word be spoken to them. For they could not bear the command: ‘If even a beast touches the Mountain it must be stoned!’ So terrible was the sight that Moses said, ‘I am afraid and trembling!’; but you have come to Mount Zion and to the City of the Living God, the heavenly Jerusalem and to tens of thousands of angels; to the General Assembly and Congregation of the Firstborn who are enrolled in Heaven, and to God, the Judge of all, and to the spirits of the righteous made perfect; and to Yeshua, the Mediator of a New Covenant, and to the sprinkled Blood which speaks better than the blood of Abel.” (Hebrews 12:18-24)

The “Congregation of the Firstborn: is a direct reference to Yahveh calling Israel His Firstborn Son, and also Yeshua, for He is truly the Father’s uniquely begotten Firstborn Son (Gen. 1:3; Ps. 2:7; Jn. 1:18). Yeshua also said that His followers were chosen: ‘You did not choose Me, but I chose you,’

‘and appointed you that you would go and bear fruit and that your fruit would remain so that whatever you ask of the Father in My Name He may give to you.’ (John 15:16)

---

<sup>21</sup> In the Hebrew text the word is shofar (ram’s horn), not trumpet. It’s the heavenly Shofar.

Both times that Yeshua mentions choose and chose, the Greek parallels the Hebrew for The Chosen People, the Jewish people, and here it speaks of Yeshua choosing His Apostles, and symbolically, all those who follow Him. Of course, Yeshua wasn't speaking Greek, but Hebrew, and so the words He used would have come from the Hebrew bachar בָּחַר (choose).<sup>22</sup>

Finally, Paul uses a general conceptual framework of 'first fruits' taken to be a person or a family outside of Israel who was the first to respond to the Message of Life in Yeshua the Messiah:

'Likewise, greet the assembly that is in their house. Salute my beloved Epaenetus who is the first fruits of Achaia unto Christ.' (Rom. 16:5)

'Now, I urge you, brethren (you know the household of Stephanas, that they were the first fruits of Achaia and that they have devoted themselves for ministry to the saints).' (1st Cor. 16:15)

THE TECHNICAL PROBLEM

Within the seven day Feast of Matza (Unleavened Bread) there will always be a Sunday. On this Sunday the High Priest elevated a handful of finely crushed barley grain from the spring crop. It symbolized Israel's recognition that Yahveh, the Owner of the Land, had provided food for His people Israel and that the first portion goes to Him, making the rest of the spring crop, and also the summer and fall crops that followed, holy. First Sheaf always falls on a Sunday, the day after the seventh day weekly Sabbath within Passover Week (the Feast of Unleavened Bread Week),<sup>23</sup> contrary to what the Pharisees taught, and what the Rabbis teach and unfortunately, all the Messianic Jews who blindly follow the Rabbis, practice today. The Rabbis, writing more than a hundred years after the destruction of the Temple (70 AD), said that the priests (Sadducees) followed their rabbinic way of thinking on religious matters, which is a lie, for those Rabbis and Pharisees revised history to suit their own understanding and agenda.<sup>24</sup> On the other hand, the Sadducees (Priests) determined when First Sheaf, and consequently, Shavu'ot were, and understood that First Sheaf was always the Sunday in Passover Week after the weekly Sabbath. They correctly understood that, 'the day after the Sabbath' of Lev. 23:11 speaks of the weekly Sabbath in Passover Week:

"He shall elevate the sheaf before Yahveh, to be accepted on your behalf, on the day after the Sabbath the (High) Priest shall elevate<sup>25</sup> it." (Lev. 23:11)

In the seven day Feast of Matza there are three Sabbaths: the two annual Sabbaths of the first and seventh days of Unleavened Bread, and the weekly 7th day Sabbath (which comes after every Friday).<sup>26</sup>

The Pharisees believed that 'the day after the Sabbath' (Lev. 23:11) referred to the day after the first annual Sabbath of Unleavened Bread, which is always 16 Aviv. This teaching is untenable, but has been adopt-

<sup>22</sup> Thayer, Thayer's Greek-English Lexicon of the New Testament, n.p. "ἐκλέγομαι...the Septuagint for bahar; to pick out, choose; in the NT...to pick or choose out for oneself...one from among many (of Jesus choosing his disciples), John 6:70; 13:18; 15:16; Acts 1:2."

<sup>23</sup> Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread are used interchangeably in Scripture (Lk. 22:1, 7; Mt. 26:17; Mk. 14:1).

<sup>24</sup> The Mishna-Talmud was written by the Rabbis after the destruction of the Second Temple and places the Pharisaic view of when First Fruits should be, and therefore, 50 days later when Shavu'ot would be, as the practice of the Second Temple. Many other things were similarly 'revised.' See, The Talmud—Can We Trust It? p. 16f.

<sup>25</sup> Most English Bibles have that he shall "wave" it, but the Hebrew word means to elevate it.

<sup>26</sup> If either the first day or the last day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread coincides with the seventh day Sabbath then, for all practical purposes, there are only two Sabbaths because one of the annual Sabbaths coincides with the 7th day Sabbath.

ed by Judaism because the Rabbis are the spiritual descendants of the Pharisees, who ousted the Sadducean Priests as the leaders of the people because after 70 AD there was no Temple for the priests to offer sacrifices, etc. In other words, the Levitical Priests were out of a job and fell into obscurity. With the Pharisaic/Rabbinic belief that ‘the day after the Sabbath’ referred to the annual Sabbath of 15 Aviv (today called 15 Nisan), 50 days after that is always 6 Sivan. That’s when Orthodox Judaism (and Messianic congregations) celebrate Shavu’ot (Pentecost; the Feast of Weeks; Ex. 34:22; Num. 28:26; Dt. 16:10, 16), and it can fall on any day of the week (e.g. Sunday, Monday or Tuesday, etc.).

The problem with the Pharisaic interpretation is seen in that both First Sheaf and Shavu’ot 50 days later, unlike all the other Feasts in Lev. 23, are never given any date in Scripture. The reason for that is because they can’t be given ‘a set date’ as the dating changes every year, as determined by which day Passover falls on, and therefore, what the date of the weekly Sabbath within Passover Week is, which makes the date for the next day, Sunday, different every year.

For instance, if the counting of the 50 days always commences the day after the first annual Sabbath of Matza (16 Aviv/Nisan), as the Pharisaic Rabbis and Messianics teach, then Shavu’ot would always fall on 6 Sivan, which it does for them, but neither of these dates (16 Aviv and 6 Sivan) are ever mentioned by God nor anyone else in Scripture for First Sheaf and the Feast of Weeks (Shavu’ot), respectively. That’s because the dates for First Sheaf and Shavu’ot, which spins off of First Sheaf 50 days later, are ‘floating dates,’ meaning that they change every year due to what day of the week the Passover meal (15 Aviv) falls on. In other words, the dates for the two days (First Sheaf and Shavu’ot) cannot be given, and this is the reason why God says to count 50 days after the (weekly 7th day) Sabbath of Passover week. Yes, the Passover meal is always the night of 15 Aviv, but the day of the week (Mon/Tues/Wed, etc.) changes every year, which makes the day after the 7th day Sabbath a different date every year (17, 18, 19, etc.).

God gives the dates for all the other Feasts (Lev. 23), but He never gives the date for First Sheaf, which is not an annual Sabbath, nor Shavu’ot, which is an annual Sabbath. This is the biblical key to realizing that the Sadducees were right, and that the Pharisees, Rabbis and Messianics are wrong. The Scripture for Shavu’ot, literally ‘sevens’ or ‘weeks,’ which refers to the seven weeks; 49 days plus one, as it’s an inclusive count, meaning that First Sheaf is counted as day one, that one must wait or count 50 days to celebrate it, states:

‘You shall also count for yourselves from the day after the Sabbath, from the day when you brought in the Sheaf of the elevation offering. There shall be seven complete Sabbaths. You shall count fifty days to the day after the seventh Sabbath. Then you shall present a new grain offering to Yahveh.’ (Lev. 23:15-16)

Easy, right? You might say it seems pretty clear: ‘the day after the seventh Sabbath should obviously always be a Sunday, and seven complete Sabbaths seems pretty clear too, but the way that it’s worded in English doesn’t take into account that the Hebrew word for ‘Sabbath’ can also mean a ‘week’ (a full seven day period), and not necessarily just the 7th day Sabbath. This is the way the Pharisees, modern Judaism and Messianic Judaism take it: ‘seven complete weeks’ and ‘the day after the seventh week.’ This understanding doesn’t have biblical validity, or make any sense because it would have been not only very easy for God to give the dates for both days then, but it would have also been incumbent upon Him to give those two dates if they fell on the same dates every year. He does that for all the other Feasts; why not these two? This is why we know that Judaism and Messianic Judaism are wrong.

Just like your birthday, which is always the same date every year, but falls on a different day of the week every year (e.g. Monday or Tuesday, etc.), so too, with the Passover meal. It’s always 15 Aviv, but 15 Aviv can fall on a Monday night or a Tuesday night, etc. Now, First Sheaf, biblically, will always be the Sunday of Passover Week, but that Sunday’s date will change every year (e.g. that Sunday can be 16 Aviv, 17 Aviv, or 18 Aviv, etc.) That’s why God couldn’t give a date for either First Sheaf or Shavu’ot—every year the dates change, and this reveals that the Sadducees had the correct interpretation and understanding for

Lev. 23:11, 15-16—it's the day after the (7th day) Sabbath of Passover Week: always a Sunday.

1. The Passover sacrifice of the lamb happens about sunset on 14 Aviv. What is the Passover? The Passover is not a day per se, but most often in Scripture Passover refers to the sacrifice of the Passover lamb.<sup>27</sup>
2. About 45 minutes after sunset, after dusk, at dark, the biblical day changes to 15 Aviv, the beginning of the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread (an annual Sabbath no matter what day of the week it falls on). This is the first day of the Feast of Matza, beginning in darkness (cf. Gen. 1:1-5f., for darkness is when one biblical day ends and the next day begins, not sunset).<sup>28</sup>
3. Anywhere from approximately 8:00-10:00 PM that night the lamb would be eaten during the Passover ceremonial meal (Ex. 12:1f.), on the first day of Matza, 15 Aviv.
4. At dawn it will still be the first day of Matza, an annual Sabbath; 15 Aviv. When darkness comes it will begin 16 Aviv; the second day of Matza. The daylight of 16 Aviv is when the Pharisees and modern Rabbis and Messianics teach that the First Sheaf would have been offered up to God.

The Sadducees, who like the Pharisees, who became a sect after the Babylonian captivity, were mostly made up of the priests, who had been ordained by God to teach Israel, and they were in charge of the Temple, and therefore, when Israel would celebrate the Feasts. They taught 'the day after the Sabbath' was the day after the seventh weekly Sabbath,<sup>29</sup> and on the next day, Sunday, the High Priest would offer the First Sheaf (quantity of barley grain known as the omer). This is biblically correct.

Aviv 21, the seventh day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, is also an annual Sabbath, as the Feast of Matza is from 15 to 21 Aviv; seven days. The community comes together for holy assemblies on the first and seventh days of the Feast of Unleavened Bread (Ex. 12:16).

If the counting for the omer began on the day after the first annual Sabbath of Unleavened Bread, as the Pharisees, modern Judaism and Messianics contend, First Sheaf would always be on 16 Aviv and Shavu'ot would always be on 6 Sivan. Two days, two dates, very simple, but we never see them in Scripture, yet God gives us the dates for all the other Feasts. Unless one is ready to say that God forgot to give the dates, or that He is intentionally trying to be deceptive, one is left with the fact that God didn't give the dates because the dates for both days can't be given, as they change every year depending on what day of the week the Passover lamb was slain:

1. If 14 Aviv, the Passover, when the sacrifice of the lamb took place, fell on a Sunday at sunset<sup>30</sup> then the Feast of Unleavened Bread, 15 Aviv, would begin at darkness that night and the lamb would be eaten Sunday night. The date for the following Sunday, the day after the seventh day (weekly) Sabbath, would be 21 Aviv. This would be both First Sheaf and the concluding annual seventh day Sabbath of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, the last day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread. Fifty days later would be Shavu'ot on day 11 of the third biblical month.
2. If 14 Aviv, the Passover, when the sacrifice of the lamb took place, fell on a Monday at sunset then the Feast of Unleavened Bread, 15 Aviv, would begin at darkness Monday night and the lamb would be

---

<sup>27</sup> Ex. 12:21, 27; Luke 22:7-8, 11, 13, 15; Mk. 14:12, 14; Mt. 26:17-19. In the days of Yeshua the Passover lambs would be sacrificed beginning about 1:00 PM at the Temple because there were about 100,000 lambs that needed to be sacrificed. That's why the earlier time than if each household did it by their homes, as it was biblically done in Egypt.

<sup>28</sup> See When Does The Sabbath Begin?

<sup>29</sup> Friday night dark until Saturday night dark is the biblical Sabbath, not sunset Friday night to sunset Saturday.

<sup>30</sup> I have used sunset as the time when the lambs would have been sacrificed, and this would be the approximate time when Israel would have sacrificed them at the First Passover in Egypt. The Scriptures say that the sacrifice was to take place, literally, 'between the two evenings' ('twilight;' Ex. 12:6). This is between sunset and dusk.

eaten on Monday night. The date for the following Sunday, the day after the seventh day (weekly Sabbath) would be 20 Aviv. This would be First Sheaf that year. Fifty days later would be Shavu'ot on day 10 of the third biblical month.

3. Simply put:

1. If the Passover meal is eaten on Tues nite (15 Aviv), First Sheaf is on Sunday, 19 Aviv. Fifty days later would be Shavu'ot on day 9 of the third biblical month.
2. If the Passover meal is eaten on Wed nite (15 Aviv), First Sheaf is on Sunday, 18 Aviv. Fifty days later would be Shavu'ot on day 8 of the third biblical month.
3. If the Passover meal is eaten on Thurs nite (15 Aviv), First Sheaf is on Sunday, 17 Aviv. Fifty days later would be Shavu'ot on day 7 of the third biblical month.
4. If the Passover meal is eaten on Friday nite (15 Aviv), First Sheaf is on Sunday, 16 Aviv.<sup>31</sup> Fifty days later would be Shavu'ot on day 6 of the third biblical month.
5. If the Passover meal is eaten on Saturday nite (15 Aviv), First Sheaf falls outside the seven days of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, and on Sunday, 22 Aviv.<sup>32</sup> Fifty days later would be Shavu'ot on

---

<sup>31</sup> A Friday night Passover meal is the only time when the two different interpretations of the Sadducees and the Pharisees, dovetail. 16 Aviv (Pharisee) would be that Sunday, and that Sunday would also be 'the day after the weekly seventh day Sabbath' (Sadducee). It seems that Joshua, when he brought the Sons of Israel into the Promised Land, celebrated that first Passover meal in Canaan on a Friday night, with First Sheaf on Sunday. This would account for the Scriptures stating that Israel kept the Passover (sacrifice) on the 14th day and that they 'ate of the produce of the land on the day after the Passover' (i.e. the day after they ate of the Passover meal, the first day of Matza; 16 Aviv)...and the Manna ceased the day after they had eaten of the produce of the land (Monday, 17 Aviv; Joshua 5:10-12). For Israel to eat of the produce of the land on the day after 16 Aviv means that the Passover meal was eaten on Friday night and First Sheaf was offered up on Sunday, for it states that one wasn't to eat of the new barley crop until the first sheaf had been dedicated to Yahveh (Lev. 23:10-14).

Some proponents of the Pharisaic interpretation point to Joshua 5:10-12 to try and prove that the Pharisaic-Rabbinic concept is right, but all it proves is that the Passover lamb was slain on Friday at sunset and Israel ate the meal on Friday night (Sabbath evening). That year the Pharisaic interpretation coincided with the the Sadducean understanding. If the Passover Meal is on any other night (other than Friday night) the two concepts separate. Only a Friday night Passover meal brings the two concepts together, but the main point is that God didn't give the dates for either First Sheaf or Shavu'ot, yet He gave the dates for all the other feasts. The Rabbis and Messianics are wrong.

<sup>32</sup> If the Passover meal is eaten on Saturday nite, the Feast of Unleavened Bread, 15 Aviv, begins at darkness on Saturday night and First Sheaf will be on the Sunday outside of the Feast's 7 days. The weekly 7th day Sabbath of the Feast will also be the last day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread—the 7th day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread. This is the only time when First Sheaf falls outside the seven days of the Feast of Unleavened Bread. One has to wait a week until the weekly 7th day Sabbath comes within the Feast of Unleavened and so, First Sheaf actually takes place the day after the Feast ends on Sat. nite, which means that First Sheaf is on Sunday, 22 Aviv.

Some Christians teach that First Sheaf should be offered on the Sunday that coincides with the annual Sabbath of the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, but this cannot be because the day before, which is the weekly 7th day Sabbath is not part of the Feast of Unleavened Bread Week and that Sunday is only 15 Aviv. Those Christians don't want First Sheaf to fall after the Feast of Unleavened Bread is over, and so they disregard Scripture, which says First Sheaf must be the day after the weekly 7th day Sabbath within Passover Week. Their teaching is both biblically wrong, as First Sheaf must take place after the weekly Sabbath within Passover Week, and theologically wrong. Yeshua makes us acceptable to God when He ascended, not on the day He was sacrificed. The year that Yeshua died the Passover meal (15 Aviv) was eaten on a Wednesday night, and He was crucified on a Thursday (still 15 Aviv). Two days later the weekly 7th day Sabbath within Passover Week came, and the next day, First Sheaf, was when He rose from the dead. First Sheaf is when we became acceptable to God the Father, not the day of His sacrifice, which also has incredible significance. In other words, those who trample over God's instruction in Leviticus as to when First Sheaf should be the day after the weekly 7th day Sabbath within Passover Week, symbolically have the death, resurrection and ascension occurring on the same day (Sunday, 15 Aviv). God though, doesn't make any provision nor exception in Scripture for the Passover meal being eaten on day 12 of the third biblical month.

In 2015 First Sheaf fell outside the Feast of Unleavened Bread. First Sheaf was still on Sunday, but the Sunday day after the Feast of Unleavened Bread ended. This happened because the Passover ceremonial meal was on Saturday night (April 4, 2015). This meant that the 7th day Sabbath of Passover Week was the last day of the Feast and that First Sheaf would be one day after that, when the Feast of Unleavened Bread had already ended on Saturday night, April 11, 2015. First Sheaf is always the day after the weekly 7th day Sabbath within Passover Week, except when the Passover meal falls on Saturday night.<sup>33</sup>

Depending on what week night the Passover meal is eaten determines the actual Sunday date for First Sheaf in Tabernacle and Temple times. Consequently, Shavu'ot 50 days later, will always have a different date every year too. Because of this 'floating date' God couldn't give dates for either First Sheaf or Shavu'ot. This reveals that the 'day after the Sabbath' (Lev. 23:11, 15-16) is the day after the weekly 7th day Sabbath in Passover Week.

First Sheaf cannot be the day after the first annual Sabbath of Unleavened Bread, as the Rabbis and Messianics claim. If it was, First Sheaf would always be on 16 Aviv/Nisan, and 50 days later Shavu'ot would always be 6 Sivan. These two days though, are not seen in Leviticus 23, contrary to every other feast in Leviticus having their dates. God couldn't give the dates for First Sheaf and Shavu'ot because they're 'floating dates,' changing every year. That's how we know the ancient Sadducees were right about the Sabbath in question, and the Pharisees, Rabbis and Messianics today are wrong.

Some Christians who keep the Feasts think that First Sheaf should always fall within the week of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, which seems reasonable, but obviously when the Passover meal is on a Saturday night it cannot happen. The only 7th day Sabbath during that week of Unleavened Bread is the last day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread. Hence, the reason why First Sheaf falls on the Sunday after that Sabbath when the Feast ends that year.

Alfred Edersheim, a 19th century Jew who became the world's leading authority on Jesus and Talmud, affirms that the Sadducees were right and the Pharisees were wrong for when the Omer count began:

“the Sadducees would have interpreted Lev. 23:11, 15, 16 as meaning that the wave-sheaf (or rather the Omer) was to be offered on 'the morrow after the weekly Sabbath...which would have brought the Feast of Pentecost always on a Sunday (Lev. 23:15, 16); while the Pharisees understood the term 'Sabbath' of the festive Paschal day”<sup>34</sup> or the day after the Passover meal was eaten; always 16 Aviv.

---

Saturday night, saying that First Sheaf should then be on the next day, Sunday, which would coincide with the first day of the Feast of Matza, picturing the death of Yeshua. God speaks of it being after the 7th day Sabbath of Passover Week: “He shall wave the sheaf before Yahveh, to be accepted on your behalf, on the day after the Sabbath the High Priest shall wave it...And you shall count for yourselves from the day after the Sabbath, from the day that you brought the sheaf of the wave offering, seven Sabbaths shall be completed. Count fifty days to the day after the seventh Sabbath. Then you shall offer a new grain offering to Yahveh” (Leviticus 23:11, 15-16).

There isn't any biblical reason why First Sheaf cannot fall on the Sunday after the last day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread. The last day of the Feast would be both the seventh day weekly Sabbath and the second annual Sabbath of the Feast itself, closing out the Feast. The Feast of Matza would end on Saturday night at dark and the next day, Sunday, would be the day after the 7th day Sabbath within Passover Week, 22 Aviv, when First Sheaf would take place. Israel came out of Egypt the day when the lamb was eaten (15 Aviv), and we came out of the Darkness of Satan's Kingdom when Yeshua died, but we only became acceptable to God when Yeshua ascended, the day after the weekly 7th day Sabbath of Passover Week, which that year would have been 18 Aviv.

<sup>33</sup> The Passover meal also fell on a Saturday night, April 20, 2019 and April 16, 2022.

<sup>34</sup> Alfred Edersheim, The Life and Times of Jesus The Messiah (Peabody, MA: Hendrickson Pub., 2000; Accordance Bible Software), paragraph 1,414, note 59: Men. 10:3; 65a; Chag. 2:4.

TALMUD—CAN WE TRUST IT?

Most scholars today, both Jewish and non-Jewish, agree that Second Temple practices were in the hands of the Levitical Priests. Things like when First Sheaf, and therefore, Shavu'ot occurred, followed the Sadducean understanding, and not that of the Pharisees. This disagrees with the Talmud, but Jacob Neusner, 'an internationally recognized authority on the Talmud and a conservative Jewish scholar,'<sup>35</sup> states that the Talmudic writings which refer to the Second Temple period are, "Sayings and stories...made up and attributed to prior times or authorities."<sup>36</sup>

Neusner says that historical facts didn't get in the way of (the Pharisees and Rabbis) rewriting what actually had transpired during the Second Temple period, and after the Second Temple was destroyed, and that there was no 'one around to argue with' the Pharisees from lying and revising Second Temple history and practice. Neusner writes,

"Ample evidence, in virtually every document of rabbinic literature, sustains the proposition that it was quite common for sages to make up sayings and stories and attribute the sayings to, or tell stories about, other prior authorities. Considerations of historical fact did not impede the search for religious truth: the norms of belief and behavior. That is why, if all we want are historical facts, we cannot believe everything we read except as evidence of what was in the mind of the person who wrote up the passage: opinion held at the time of the closure of a document."<sup>37</sup>

David Kraemer, a Jewish professor at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York City, wrote that it is impossible to determine from the Talmud what actually went on during the Second Temple period:<sup>38</sup>

"Scholars, mostly Jewish, but also non-Jewish, have been using Rabbinic sources for historical study for well over a century. These studies...have been, almost without exception, what Jacob Neusner terms 'gullible.' They have assumed, in other words, that the Rabbinic record can, more or less, be taken at its word and that, once one has determined the 'original version' of a teaching and discounted obvious fabulous material" (meaning gross exaggerations of the Rabbis), "one may accept that teaching as historically reliable."

"By this stage in the development of Judaic scholarship, the folly of these earlier habits is broadly recognized. Neusner and others have pointed to a variety of crucial and even fatal flaws in the approach just described, and there is hardly a scholar writing today about the history of Jews in late antiquity who does not at least pay lip service...to the much repeated critique...Can we believe Rabbinic attributions for purposes of dating a tradition? Why should we believe what any given tradition reports? and so forth...I will conclude that these obstacles are effectively insurmountable, and that most sorts of political, social, or religious histories cannot be constructed on the basis of Rabbinic testimony."<sup>39</sup>

William Green writes that the Feast dates were originally in the hands of the Aaronic Priesthood, not the

---

<sup>35</sup> See Herb Solinsky, The Hail Plague and the First Biblical Month, p. 41.

<sup>36</sup> Ibid. Jacob Neusner, Rabbinic Literature & the New Testament (Valley Forge, PA: Trinity Press International, 1994), p. 13.

<sup>37</sup> Ibid. Neusner, Rabbinic Literature & the New Testament, p. 68.

<sup>38</sup> Ibid., pp. 41-42.

<sup>39</sup> Ibid., p. 42. David Kraemer, Rabbinic Sources for Historical Study, Judaism in Late Antiquity, part 3, volume 1, (edited by Jacob Neusner and Alan J. Avery-Peck. Leiden: Brill, 1999), p. 201.

Pharisees:

“Before the fall of the Jerusalem temple in AD 70, the priests proclaimed the sacred times of the year. In the aftermath of the temple’s destruction, the new rabbinic movement appropriated that priestly task to itself.”<sup>40</sup>

Neusner confirms Green and declares:

“The Pharisees before 70 did not control the Temple and did not make laws to govern its cult (the Levitical priesthood). But afterward, they made plans for the conduct of the Temple when it would be restored.”<sup>41</sup>

What this means is that what the Talmud says about First Sheaf taking place on 16 Aviv is not to be taken as historical or factual or what transpired in the days of Yeshua. It’s the product of deceitful rabbinic minds who rewrote the history and practices of the Second Temple period to suit their teachings and religious practices, and what they wanted to see in the future Temple.

The Sadducean priests controlled the Temple in the days of the Apostles, and Yeshua celebrated First Sheaf and Shavu’ot according to the Sadducean dating of ‘Sunday to Sunday.’ Their concept is the biblical model. In the days of Messiah Yeshua First Sheaf and Shavu’ot were always on Sundays. This means that Shavu’ot of Acts Two happened on a Sunday. The Apostles of the Lord were drenched in the Holy Spirit on the annual Jewish feast of Shavu’ot, also known as Pentecost<sup>42</sup> and the Feast of Weeks.

Today, Judaism, which is a direct linear offshoot of the Pharisees, is wrong on their dating for First Sheaf and Shavu’ot, and so too are all the Messianic Christians who blindly follow the Rabbis and their Hillel calendar and dating for those two days. There was a reason why the Lord warned us not to follow Pharisaic teachings when He said to His Apostles:

“Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the Sadducees’... ‘How is it you do not understand that I did not speak to you concerning bread?—but to beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.’ Then they understood that He did not tell them to beware of the leaven of bread, but of the teachings of the Pharisees and the Sadducees.”<sup>43</sup> (Mt. 16:6, 11-12)

CONCLUSION

First Sheaf is the day when a handful of the new spring barley crop would be offered up to the God of Israel in thanksgiving by the High Priest, for all the spring crops and also the coming summer and fall harvest. The High Priest would have finely ground barley grain, with oil and incense, in a quantity known as an omer (about a dry quart or liter). He would offer a prayer to Yahveh, thanking Him for all that God had done for Israel, in bringing her into, and giving her the land of Canaan, the land that Abraham, Isaac and Jacob had wandered over, and which God had promised to them and their descendents. The High Priest would thank Yahveh for the many people of Israel, and for supplying Israel with food, symbolized in the offering up of the First Sheaf to God who had brought it up from the land. Israel could not eat of the new grain until the High Priest had offered up a handful of the omer. Then Israel became acceptable to

---

<sup>40</sup> Ibid. William Scott Green, Storytelling and Holy Man, Take Judaism, for Example (edited by Jacob Neusner. Chicago: The University of Chicago Press, 1983), pp. 35-36.

<sup>41</sup> Ibid. Jacob Neusner, In Search of Talmudic Biography (Chico, CA: Scholars Press, 1984), p. 81.

<sup>42</sup> See Pentecost—Shavu’ot, for why God chose it to immerse Israel in the Holy Spirit.

<sup>43</sup> Some Sadducean teachings we shouldn’t follow are their belief that there was no afterlife nor angels nor the resurrection of the dead (cf. Acts 23:8).

God (cf. Gen. 4:3-5). It was only after Yeshua ascended to God the Father that His followers could eat of Him and became acceptable to His Father.

Christians have no understanding of this, nor of course, practice it, but First Sheaf, as Paul the Apostle clearly states, refers to Messiah Yeshua as the first of the dead to rise, never again to die, glorified (1st Corinthians 15:12-24f.). It is this ceremony that the Church should be celebrating in honor of Messiah's resurrection, not Easter Sunday or 'Resurrection Day,' which often doesn't even fall on the correct Sunday for the resurrection because the Church doesn't use the biblical calendar, but Rome's calculations and calendar. Jesus is called the (Passover) Lamb of God (Jn. 1:29), not the chocolate Easter bunny.

The problem with the Pharisaic/Rabbinic/Messianic interpretation of when First Sheaf, and therefore, Shavu'ot, 50 days later, would be celebrated centers around their incorrect interpretation of which Sabbath God meant when He said, the day after the Sabbath, for when the First Sheaf is to be offered. The Pharisees and Rabbis, etc., interpret that Sabbath to be the first annual Sabbath of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, which is always 16 Aviv, and therefore, always produces the date 6 Sivan for Shavu'ot. This is wrong because God never gives those dates as they're 'floating dates,' changing every year. That's how we know the ancient Sadducees were right and the Pharisees (Rabbis and Messianics today) are wrong for their dating of First Sheaf and Shavu'ot.

Seeking to justify the keeping of the Pharisaic/Rabbinic/Messianic concept, many Christians turn to the Talmud, but the Talmud is not an honest broker in this area. What is in the Talmud concerning Second Temple practices is not what actually transpired during Second Temple times. The Rabbis literally rewrote history according to how they wanted it to be, and in that, almost two millennia of Jews, and some Christians and Messianics who follow the Rabbis today, have been deceived and celebrate First Sheaf and Shavuot on the wrong dates.

First Sheaf is always on the Sunday within Passover Week, unless the Passover meal is on a Saturday night. Then First Sheaf falls on the Sunday after the last day of the Feast, which is the 7th day Sabbath and also the 2nd annual Sabbath of the Feast of Unleavened Bread.

First Sheaf is not a holy day (unless it coincides with the last day of the Feast, the second annual Sabbath of the Feast of Unleavened Bread. It should though, now that we know the significance of it, be celebrated as a time of feasting and thanksgiving unto the Father for keeping His promise to Israel, and unto the Son who has made us acceptable in His Father's eyes. Glory to the Passover Lamb who was slain and lives forever! What a mighty King we serve!

BOOKS

Bellinger, Jr., W. H. New International Biblical Commentary: Leviticus, Numbers (Peabody, MA: Hendrickson Publishers, Inc., 2001).

Edersheim, Alfred. The Life and Times of Jesus The Messiah (Peabody, MA: Hendrickson Pub., 2000; Accordance Bible Software, 2017).

Harris, R. L., editor; Gleason Archer, Jr. and Bruce Waltke, associate editors. Theological Wordbook of the Old Testament, vol. II (Chicago: Moody Press, 1980).

Keil, C. F. and F. Delitzsch. Commentary On The Old Testament, vol. 1: The Pentateuch (Peabody, MA: Hendrickson Publishers, 2001).

Koehler, Ludwig, Walter Baumgartner, and J. J. Stamm, authors; M. Richardson, translator. The Hebrew-Aramaic Lexicon of the Old Testament (Accordance Bible Software; Altamonte Springs, FL: OakTree Software, 2011).

Milgrom, Jacob. The Anchor Bible: Leviticus 1-16 (New York, Doubleday, 2001)

Neusner, Jacob. Rabbinic Literature & the New Testament (Valley Forge, PA: Trinity Press International, 1994).

Thayer, Joseph. Thayer's Greek-English Lexicon of the New Testament (Accordance Bible Software, 2017).

Yehoshua, Avram. *The Lifting of the Veil—Acts 15:20-21*.

ARTICLES

Solinsky, Herb:

1. The Hail Plague and the First Biblical Month
2. Treatise on the Biblical Calendar

Yehoshua, Avram:

1. A Snapshot of Church History and Mosaic Law
2. Law 102
3. Pentecost—Shavu'ot
4. Salvation—The Promise!
5. The Feasts of Israel and the Church
6. The Feasts of Israel as Time Markers After the Resurrection
7. The Lord's Day—Sunday?
8. The Two Triangles of the NT
9. When Does The Sabbath Begin?
10. Yeshua—God the Son<sup>44</sup>

---

<sup>44</sup> First Sheaf was last revised on Friday, April 26, 2024.

